

Grant Collins

Instructor
High School Improv Class

Biography

Following a childhood dream, Grant moved to Chicago, IL to pursue all things comedy. A dream turned into a reality (obsession?) as he trained and performed at The Second City, iO, and Annoyance theaters in Chicago and has since performed comedy all over the world. If there was such a thing as a Master's Degree of Improv and Comedy, Grant would have one. After eight years, the cold winters and cramped spaces got to him and he decided to return to Nashville in 2016. Since his return, Grant has discovered his passion for sharing and teaching the art that he loves: improv.